GIVING BACK THROUGH TITHES & OFFERINGS

Cathedral of Hope celebrates an open Communion with non-alcoholic grape juice: you are not required to be a member of this church, or any other church to join in this feast of grace.
1 Corinthians 6:9-10

(KJV) Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, *nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

(NIV) *men who have sex with me
(NRSV) *male prostitutes, sodomites
(NASB) *effeminate, homosexuals

Note: What else does Paul say in First Corinthians? Paul believes that Jesus is coming back in his lifetime, and the present form of the world is passing away (7:32). Because of the urgency of his worldview, Paul wants people to focus on one’s relationship with God. He prefers people to be celibate and unmarried just like he is (7:7). If you’re married, stay married. If you’re single, stay single unless you can’t control your passions – then it might be best for you to marry (7:8-9). If you’re a slave, remain as you are unless you have the chance to be freed. It doesn’t really matter because you’re a slave of God anyway (7:20-21). Remain in whatever condition you find yourself? Should we have the same worldview or a different one?

Resound: Healing in Grief Ministry
Saturday Sessions: August 26, September 2, 9, 16 • 1-2pm (CLC 106)
Sunday Sessions: August 27, September 3, 10, 17 • 1:15 - 2:45pm (IPC Conference Room A)

Have you lost someone recently or do you still have difficult feelings or thoughts related to the loss of someone you hold dear? Has some part of your relationship with yourself, God, or others really struggled since your loss? Resound is a safe place for you, where you will find others like you and a team of caring facilitators who want to support you in your grief. We can do this together.

Registration is required due to limited class size. Register on-line at www.cathedralshope.com/resound. Contact Anita (ahaddy@cathedralshope.com)
